

Warranty Claims, Answered in Minutes — Not Days

A faster, more consistent way to say yes to the claims that are obviously covered — and get the tricky ones to the right person, fast.

WHO NEEDS IT

The customer service team at a regional appliance retailer — and any small team buried in manual warranty paperwork, with no time to spare on the easy calls.

WHY IT MATTERS

Every customer gets a fast, fair answer, and the team's limited hours go only to the claims that truly need a person's judgment.

Clear-cut claims are approved instantly — no digging through receipts and paperwork by hand.

What used to take days of back-and-forth now takes minutes, for the claims that are easy calls.

Anything unclear is sent to a person — the system never guesses on a claim it isn't sure about.

Every decision comes with a plain-English reason — nothing is a black box, for the team or the customer.

Estimated, not yet measured: based on current claim volume, the team could reclaim several hours a week now spent on routine, obviously-covered claims — to be confirmed in the first week of real use.

Built for a team too small to need — or afford — a big claims department.

Hearthstone Appliance Co. · Claim Triage Pilot